Traditional Events Mark First Week

Traditional events opened Pacific's first week of school. Highlighting the rush week was the formal social held Friday night at 8 o'clock in the basement of the Friends church. This event was sponsored by the Student Christian Union and was under the direction of Colleen Bybee. Ronald Crecelius acted as master-of-ceremonies. A male quartet composed of Clair Smith, Dave Fendall, Gene Hockett and Lawrence Lehmen sang, speeches were given by President Gervas Carey, SCU President Gordon St. George and Norval Hadley, student body president.

Thursday at 6:30 p. m. under the direction of Lois Clark, SCU-YWCA chairman, a Big and Little Sister party was held for all the girls.

At 7:30 p.m. the same evening a Stag Mix was held for all the men at Pacific. The traditional free-for-all was held.

Wednesday evening was reserved for those who wished to attend the local prayer meetings. An informal social was held in Canyon hall parlor after dinner.

The SCU sponsored a singspiration Tuesday night with Roy Clark as leader and the Ambassadors quartet (Dick Cadd, Harlow Ankeney, Ronald Crecelius, Norval Hadley, provided special music. Miss Shirley Stuart closed the meeting with a short devotional talk.

Monday night the gym was the scene of festivities as the students attended a student mixer under the direction of ASB social chairman, Jack Martin. Games were played and refreshments of punch, apples, and cookies were served by Verna Marx and Bobbie Evans.

Pacific Continues Progress With New Additions To Teaching Staff

ROSES ARE RED CRESCENTS ARE GREEN

Don't let it frighten you, kids, the Crescent isn't always this hue. Nor is it always this small.

This is just "hello" from the staff to all of you who are gracing our halls this year. And we might warn you that we need help in this venture, so all of you who have any inclination along the journalistic line... c'mon up and see us... not sometime, but NOW!

Crescent Places In News Contest

Word has been received from the Oregon Journal, Portland, that the Crescent placed third in a contest sponsored last spring by the Journal for excellence in news coverage of the Pacific Northwest College Congress. A plaque awarded to the staff may be seen in the Crescent office.

The conference, which was held March 6, 7, and 8 in Portland was covered by the March 10 issue of this paper. The letter received with the plaque stated that the paper was also judged on make-up and style as well as the coverage of PNCC.

The International Correspondence Bureau wants to contact anyone who is interested in corresponding with foreign peoples. See Crescent office for more details.

In accordance with the progressiveness of Pacific college this year several new and very interesting additions have been made to the teaching staff. Chief among them is our new president, Dr. Gervas Carey. A recorded minister, Dr. Carey attended Cleveland Bible Institute and Friends University, Wichita, Kansas, receiving his A. B. degree in 1914. He attended the Princeton Theological Seminary in 1917 and was a Fellow in the Old Testament Literature at the seminary, receiving his B. D. degree in 1918. He received his D. D. degree from Friends university in 1939.

Dr. Carey owns a ten acre berry ranch, extensively landscaped with flowers and shrubs. If not otherwise occupied he may be found at home, digging in the dirt. Friendly and understanding, he makes each student a personal friend.

Psychology Dept.

New professor of psychology and education is Dr. Wallace Emerson. He teaches Introduction to Statistics, Secondary Education, Introduction to Education, Vocational Guidance, General Psychology, and Abnormal Psychology. He received his A. B. degree from Huron college, South Dakota, his M. A. from Stanford university, and his Ph. D. from the University of California.

Bible Dept.

Paul Mills is new on the faculty of Pacific as the head of the Bible department. He teaches Old Testament History, John, Church History, History of Friends, Homiletics, and Theology. This is his first teaching position. He has served as a Friends minister for several years. His most recent pastorate was at Nampa, Idaho. He and his wife and daughter now live in Newberg.

Teaching in the Bible department and assisting in the history department, is Miss Shirley Jo Stuart. Her home is in Glen Elder, Kansas, and she is a graduate of Friends university and received her M. R. E. degree from Asbury Theological Seminary.

Miss Stuart teaches Greek I, Principles of Religious Education, Acts and Epistles, Field Work in Religious Education, and History of Civilization.

English Dept.

Miss Lucy Clark is a new addition to the English and Dramatics department. She teaches Freshman Composition and Play Production. Her home is here in Newberg. She received her A. B. degree from Asbury Theological Seminary, and has been doing graduate work at the University of Oregon, Portland Extension. She formerly taught at Greenleaf Academy, Greenleaf, Idaho, and Pennville high school, Pennville, Indiana.

Business Dept.

Miss Edna West is the new matron of Edwards hall and teaches Secretarial Science, beginning Shorthand, Beginning and Advanced Typing, and is trying to start Adult Education classes.

She received her A. B. degree from Santa Barbara State, her M. A. from Clairmont college, California, and is a candidate for Ph. D. at Columbia university. She formerly held teaching positions at the University of Redlands, California, Fresno State and the University of Wyoming.

Science Dept.

Another new member of the P. C. faculty is Professor Stanbrough, who teaches Physics, Electricity, and College Algebra. He is one of our "own", having received his A. B. and B. S. degrees from Pacific college. He received his M. A. from the University of Oregon. He has been on the faculty of Oregon College of Education at Monmouth for the past twenty-three years, and previous to that he was city superintendent in Newberg for fifteen years.

At the present he is still living in Monmouth.

From the registrar's office comes the report that 156 have registered so far. However, this was the Friday total and both Miss Mary Sutton, registrar, and President Gervas Carey reported that there were more coming.

"We believe that final registration will place the student body total above that of the last of first semester last year," stated Dr. Carey. The final first semester figure was 161.

At the first chapel held Wednesday, the president gave his ambition of Pacific college as a "high grade small Christian college". He announced that all the buildings which were under construction this summer are or will be ready for use within the next week. The new dining hall and kitchen is being used now and the plastering of the fine arts building and the laying of brick on the new science hall are virtually completed.

Classes Select Year's Leaders

Seniors selected Ronald Crecelius as president in their class meeting held Thursday. Assisting him will be Divonna Schweitzer-Crecelius as vice-president and Mary Esther Clark as secretary. Dr. Gervas Carey will serve as adviser.

The junior class chose Richard Cossel as president, Loren Mills as vice-president and social chairman, Colleen Bybee as secretary and Howard Royle, treasurer. Dr. Wallace Emerson will be adviser.

Bert Frazier was elected to the post of sophomore prexy. Anne Moore will be vice-president; Lois Clark, secretary, and Gail Green, treasurer. Freshmen chose temporary president and secretary. Cy Littlefield will be president and Barbara Dick, secretary.

To Our Readers on Our Mailing list... We wish to welcome you to our paper again this year and thank you for your subscription last year. We trust that you will want to re-subscribe. Our price this year has of necessity been raised to sixty-five cents a year. Please mail your remittance to The CRESCENT, Pacific College, Newberg, Oregon. And thank you!

Craven Reveals Football Slate

A six game schedule of gridiron encounters is on the chart for this year's Pacific college football team, Coach Earl Craven announced last week as he took over the reigns of football coach. The slate opens with Pacific U. JV's at Forest Grove, October 3, and ends with the annual homecoming fracas with Reed College of Portland, November 11.

The schedule:
October 3—8:00 p. m.—Pacific U. JV's, there.
October 11—8:00 p. m.—O.C.E., here.
October 17—8:00 p. m.—Linfield, here.
October 24—3:00 p. m.—Reed, there.
November 1—3:00 p. m.—Pacific U. JV's, here.
November 11—3:00 p. m.—Reed, here.

Late

"Daddy" Graves, nationally known evangelist, will be the speaker for chapel during this year's Religious Emphasis week, sponsored by the Student Christian Union, from October 6 to 11.

He has been working with young people for ten years, and has been in the work for about sixty years.

Veterans' Administration is completing plans to hurry up the benefits required by student G.I.'s. The fellows are urged to comply promptly and thoroughly to every regulation in order to insure this.

Dr. Walter G. Griffith missionary from Calcutta, India, will be speaker at the First Methodist church here in town Monday evening, October 6. Every church and every interested person is invited. He is to be the guest of Ernest Fritchle.

Mademoiselle magazine announces a contest open to college girls whereby the twenty winners will receive a free month's trip to New York as guest editor of the magazine. See the Crescent office for details.

Welcome

On behalf of the faculty and the Board of Directors, I extend to the entire student body a welcome to the Pacific college campus.

We welcome the old students as they have returned. We appreciate the loyalty and interest of these and the contributions which they have already made to the school life in former years.

We welcome the new students. We are looking to you for your contributions to the interests and activities of the campus.

On behalf of the former members of the faculty and the Board of Directors, I also extend a welcome to the new members of our faculty and administrative staff.

To all a cordial welcome with a challenge to adopt "Others" as a slogan for 1947-48.

GERVAS A. CAREY,
President.

The purpose of this little message is to again extend a hearty welcome. But saying it so briefly neither follows the usual form of the long-winded president's welcome speech, nor does it satisfy the editor's desire to fill space on this dainty college sheet, so let me continue.

The purpose of a welcome is to make you, particularly you who are new students of Pacific college, feel that you are wanted around here. And you are. For the very act of your choosing this kind of school demonstrates that you will not be satisfied to develop into just an ordinary individual, and extra-ordinary individuals are P.C.'s pride and joy.

We extend an especially generous welcome now because, as you go along, it may seem at times that certain forces, (such as the psychology prof or the football coach) are trying to drive you, or in the case of the latter, beat you down. But let such forces make you stronger. Remember how the Israelites grew stronger not in spite of, but because of the driving of the Egyptians. College is where you grow and develop and become strong, where you work and play, and have fun doing both. It may not take much of a man to be a college student, but it takes all there is of him.

NORVAL HADLEY,
ASB President.

EDITOR EXPOSTULATES

An especially hearty Thank You goes to Pacific's beloved "Pop" Knight for another outstanding achievement.

This time we wish to commend our prof on his marvelous direction of this summer's building program. If we could have all witnessed the miraculous way in which the new science hall, fine arts building and dining hall mushroomed up, our appreciation would be even more prolific. God seems to work through people like Pop. What greater honor could any of us want?

And to Prof. Skene and all the fellows (Mr. Smith and all you) goes our most sincere gratefulness.

The letters-to-the-editor feature of the Crescent is still very much in need of material. Let us know what you want. Surely among this student body are several vital thinkers who are willing to contribute their two cents worth.

At nearly every social event or any college sponsored activity will be fo unda tall bespectacled prof and his friendly little wife. Many of you will wonder who they are, but they are familiar to campus "oldies". Mr. and Mrs. Berreman seldom if ever fail to be interested enough and find time enough to attend our activities. Makes you feel like our affairs are somewhat worthwhile when the faculty comes.

Space is dreadfully limited in this issue. But we do trust that by next time enough of you will have volunteered to help make this paper truly outstanding. There will be opportunity. Watch for it.

MEDITATION

"Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven" ... Even as I live, oh Father, I pray that Thy light may shine within me difussing such a radiance that others may know of Thee in all Thy fullness. Today may my light shine, tomorrow may it grow even brighter until in the world beyond I may actually be one with The Perfect Light. Amen.

"Across the Editor's Desk", "Mary Meanders", "Mac Matriculates", etc., etc. etc. I have condescended to "Editor Expostulates" with some misgivings. Well, you think of a better one!!!

Reporter Views Co-Ed Fashion

Tight skirts, tube skirts, drape skirts, long skirts, checks, plaids, reds, greens, yellows are all in evidence on the campus, but none predominate.

The much disputed fourteen inch length over which many radio programs, irate husbands, and style conscious boy friends are raving about in mad and uncompromising terms are nevertheless here to stay for a season or so.

We noticed Chick Bain in a darling red plaid tube skirt which makes her appear delightfully taller. Jeanne Woodward looks very charming and efficient in a tailored black and white checked skirt.

Short sleeved nubbys are again the rage this year and we noticed them on Enid Briggs, Laura Shook and Eleanor Burton. BRIGHT and oh so charming is Louise Fivecoat in her red dress.

Proof that the married set needn't look matronly was cute little Anabel Armstrong with her hair in a pert topknot. Back to the clothes situation ... ever notice how neat and attractive blond Mrs. Quincy Fodge always looks? (Ellene Tamplin in years gone by).

There's much more to talk about, but we must be off now to Antoine's Salon in New York for the latest previews of Gay Paree fashions which we'll undoubtedly see on the college miss.

Pomes

Oh shall we be brainy
Or just Hep Heddys?
In which shall we major
Our studies or steadies???

The suspense is terrific
We're put to the test.
Which girl in the class
Will the new boy like best???

It rattles and rumbles.
It's oodles of fun.
But how much longer will
Doug's old Ford run???

P. C. Couple Weds

Nampa Friends church in Nampa, Idaho, was the scene of the marriage of Helen Antrim to Richard Cadd, Monday evening, September 8. Both Helen and Dick are juniors at Pacific this year.

Mrs. Edith Campbell, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Jack Cadd, brother of Dick, was best man. Bridesmaids were Mary McClintick, Newberg, and Mrs. Donna Jean Dick of Nampa. Norval Hadley and Wayne Antrim were the groom's attendants. Lighting the tapers before the ceremony were Barbara Evans and Louise Fivecoat. Lois White, Pauline Ireland, and Mrs. Patty Morse served at the reception. Harold Antrim, Mrs. Joyce Lewis, Gertrude Haworth, Mrs. Nancy Mills, Mrs. Eleanor Antrim and Arlene Fivecoat supplied the music.

Rev. Earl Geil performed the ceremony.

Football Gains High Interest; Quakers Prepare for Opener

Taking advantage of good weather, between 30 and 35 stalwart football possibilities have turned out consistently the past two weeks in an effort to be in tip-top condition for their opening tilt with the Pacific U. JV's at Forest Grove this Friday. Scrimmaging will take place this week, according to Craven.

A number of experienced men have turned out in addition to nine lettermen returning from last year's squad. Several former high school first stringers from various cities in addition to the above mentioned lettermen have given the indication that this season's eleven will be one of the best in the history of the institution.

Those turning out for the gridiron sport: Harold Ankeny, Wayne Antrim, Bob Armstrong, Gene Beaver, Dick Beebe, Vern Brightup, Bob Cadd, Dick Cadd, Jack Cadd, Everett Clarkson, Marion Clarkson, Pete Fertello, who is assistant to Coach Earl Craven, Dave Fendall, Ernest Fritschle, Norval Hadley, Henry Huntspurger, Allen Hester, Chet Kimball, Roy Lawrence, Lloyd Lyda, Bud Mardock, Hal May, Clair Smith, Gordon St. George, Roger Thompson, Ray Warner, Ervin Winters, Gene Smith, Derrol Hockett, Nate Whittlesey and Dick Harvison.

Only one man, Lloyd Lyda, has been chalked up on the injury list so far, and he is expected to be back in football togs before the week is over.

School Gives Earl Craven Head Coach Job

By Harlow Ankeny

Earl Craven, popular student sports enthusiast and athlete at Pacific college for two years, has been appointed by the institution as athletic head for the 1947-48 school year. Appointment of Craven as a student coach came several weeks ago after several considerations of acquiring graduate men had not materialized.
